THE ICTUS RECORDS RE-BIRTH

Labeled as "The creative label for creative music" ICTUS Records was one of the leading independent music labels in the late 70's. Founded by Carla Lugli, producer and Andrea Centazzo, artistic director, the company focused mainly on improvised music, contemporary music and avant-garde jazz. In 1984, due to increasing financial problems, ICTUS ceased to exist.

In 2006, exactly after 30 years of its birth, ICTUS went back on the market with a special 30s' Anniversary 12 CD's Box Set including both archived and new recordings.

From there the label took off with many never before released sessions and brand new exciting recordings thanks to the joint venture of Cezary Lerski executive producer and Andrea Centazzo artistic director and musical producer.

The label is now focusing again on the new music scene with many special editions and collections made and packed individually with unique features.

Each CD and DVD has a specific and separate character reflecting the cultural influence of the time and the place where the music and the images were composed and recorded: many artistic souls, one artistic vision. A vision that is on the edge of established musical and visual trends, a horizon that is artistic director Andrea Centazzo's own captivating style.
